Five Acquitted In Mercy Death Of Armless Baby

Liege, Belgium — (AP) — Three women and two men tried for the killing of a baby girl malformed by thalidomide were acquitted today by a 12-man jury.

The accused were: Suzanne Vandeput, 25, accused of the homicide of her daughter by administering barbiturate drugs in the baby's food; her husband, Jean, 35; her sister, Monique de la Marck, 26; the child's grandmother, Fernande Yerna, 50; and the family doctor, Jacques Casters, 33, also accused of complicity.

Casters is alleged to have prescribed the drug which killed the armless baby.

The trial lasted five days.

The prosecution had demanded convictions for the death of the eight-day-old baby.

Applause and shouts from the huge crowd packed into every inch of the court greeted the verdict.

Women fainted and were held up by the pressure of the crowd.

Prosecutor Leon Cappuyens said in a final statement that he had been described "as the most lonely man in this trial, but he pressed the jury to act according to their conscience and not public opinion."

In an earlier address to the jury, the prosecutor asked that a recommendation of leniency accompany a guilty verdict.

Letters and telegrams flooded the Palace of Justice had sided mostly with the defense.

The 12-man jury, all but one a parent, had to decide by a simple majority.

Mrs. Vandeput, who took thalidomide during pregnancy, has admitted giving her infant daughter a barbiturate prescribed by Dr. Casters at the family's request. The baby was born last May 29.

Battle Of Ballot Box Isn't Over In 6 States

Washington — (AP) — The election is over but the battle of the ballot box continues, and residents of four states may not know who their next governor is for several weeks.

And two losing Republican Senate candidates from South Dakota and Alabama have indicated they may challenge the first count of ballots that showed their Democratic opponents ahead.

The gubernatorial battles are in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Maine and Rhode Island. As of Friday night, unofficial figures showed Republican incumbents to be ahead in Maine and Minnesota while Democrats held tenuous leads in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

In Massachusetts, Endicott Peabody jumped further ahead than the official canvass of Boston and some revisions in other areas gave him a 3,868-vote margin over Republican Gov. John A. Volpe. Both have taken out recount papers. The official canvass is expected next week.

Two remote North Woods precincts — the last two to be heard from — added to Minnesota Gov. Elmer L. Anderson's unofficial lead, but a 100-vote error was discovered in one county and by nightfall Friday Republican Anderson's edge over Democratic Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag had dwindled to 51 votes with (Continued on page 19)

Post Office Will Be Closed Monday

The Ogdensburg Post Office will be closed Monday, Nov. 12 in observance of Veterans Day. Postmaster Frank LaVigne announced today.

There will be no regular city or rural deliveries but special delivery and perishable matter will be delivered. A collection of mail will be made from street letter boxes on the holiday schedule and mails will be dispatched as usual. All window service at the Post Office will be suspended but stamps may be obtained from a vending machine in the lobby.

FBI Arrests Bank Robber Wilcoxson, Girl Friend

Washington — (AP) — The FBI announced the arrest in Baltimore Saturday of Bobby Randall Wilcoxson, 33, who was sought for a series of bank robberies and is among the agency's 10 most wanted men.

Arrested with him was Jacqueline Ruth Rose, 19, who also faces bank robbery charges.

The arrest of Wilcoxson and Miss Rose was announced here by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

The two were arrested outside a newly rented Baltimore home less than a week after Albert Frederick Nussbaum, 28, named by the FBI as the third member of the gang, was arrested in Buffalo, N. Y.

The couple moved in last week and Wilcoxson used the name Robert Thomas Bronson while Miss Rose used the name Gloria Banks. Wilcoxson was posing as her father, Hoover said.

FBI agents in Baltimore said Wilcoxson was arrested as he stepped out of the house and started to enter an automobile parked across the street.

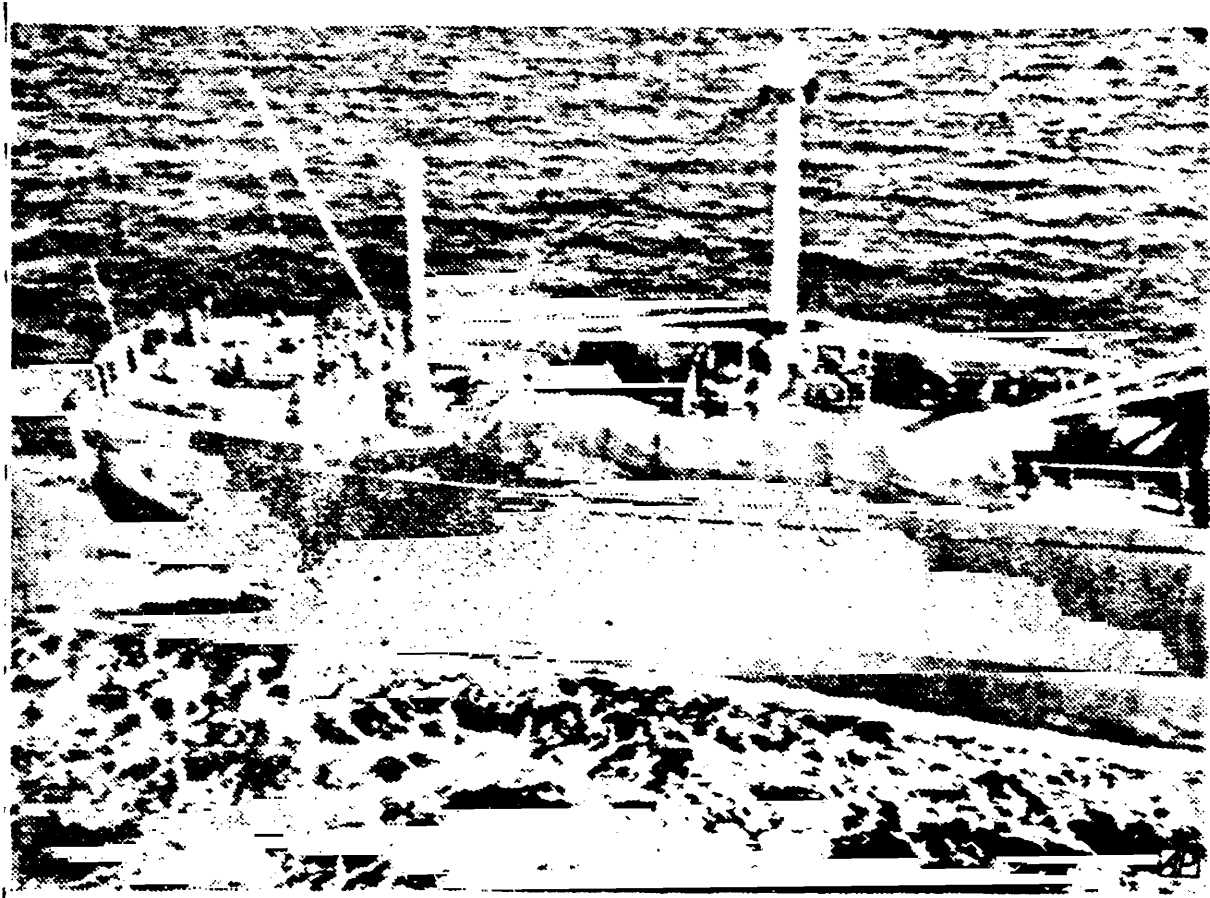

Asked whether he offered any resistance, one of the arresting officers offered: "He didn't have a chance."

In the house were his girl friend and a 14-month-old child, they said.

Frolicking nearby at the time of the arrest were nearly a dozen children, some of them dressed as soldiers and playing at war.

The Baltimore arrest came as reports were current that the FBI had alerted Scotland Yard to the possibility that Wilcoxson had entered Britain several days ago.

4th Soviet Freighter Checked For Missile Cargo By US Navy; Inspection Accord Reached

CLOSEUP OF OUTBOUND SOVIET MISSILES — The Defense Department released this picture in Washington Nov. 8 as a closeup of the rear deck of the Soviet ship Dvynogorsk showing two canvas-covered missiles and their transporters. Quantanamo Bay, Cuba — (AP) — The U. S. Navy guided missile ship Dahlgren grimly escorted a Soviet freighter, apparently carrying eight ballistic missiles on her deck, through the Windward Passage Saturday.

The 12,000-ton Leninsky Komsomol was riding so high in the water she appeared to be sailing in ballast — evidence that the Soviet was hurrying to remove the 1,200 and 2,000-mile range missiles from Cuba.

This was the fourth Soviet freighter with apparent missile cargo to pass through the 50-mile band of water in the last 72 hours.

It was the first such departure witnessed by newsmen who flew over the freighter at an altitude of 150 feet — low enough to see deckhands at work.

The Dahlgren trailed the Leninsky at about 900 feet through calm waters at a speed of about 18 knots, about 20 miles an hour. This would be top cruising speed for the 308-foot Soviet vessel.

The Leninsky sailed from the Cuban port of Castida on the south side of the island 360 miles west of here.

The Soviet vessel appeared to be weather-worn. Her white superstructure was dulled by salt spray, her hull showed various shades of grey from the covering of rust spots above the normal waterline. Her red lead bottom below the Pimsoll line showed clearly. With a full cargo this red line would have been underwater.

On her deck, four to a side, were canvas-shrouded long objects, presumably missiles. Lashed to the fore and after decks were eight trucks.

After the newsmen's plane had circled over the ship several times, 40 to 50 Soviet crewmen appeared on the deck and went through physical exercises. Some of them waved to the plane.

United Nations, N. Y. — (AP) — U. N. Acting Secretary-General U. Thant reported conditional agreement Saturday on detailed arrangements for the Red Cross inspection of Soviet ships bound for Cuba.

He made the announcement as he left U. N. headquarters after a conference with representatives of the International Committee of the Red Cross.

Thant was asked if the committee, Cuba, the Soviet Union and the United States have all agreed to these arrangements. He replied: "They have all agreed, with certain conditions."

He said the United Nations later will publish a letter from him to a Red Cross negotiator spelling out the proposed arrangements.

Asked when the agreement would be final and conclusive, Thant said early next week probably by Tuesday.

Hyde Park Services Conducted For Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

Hyde Park, N. Y. — (AP) — some 200 other mourners as the standard Episcopal ritual for the dead was observed for Mrs. Roosevelt.

However, the Rev. Mr. Kidd departed from the regular service.

Washington — (AP) — President and Mrs. Kennedy left Washington for Hyde Park, N. Y. Saturday in a new White House jet to attend the funeral of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Their plane lifted off from Andrews Air Force Base at 11:13 a. m. EST, for the flight to Stewart Air Force Base near Newburgh, N. Y.

They were to fly by helicopter from there to Hyde Park for the 2 p. m. (EST) services.

Accompanying the President and Mrs. Kennedy were Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren of the Supreme Court, Associate Justice Arthur and Mrs. Goldberg, W. Averell Harriman, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a presidential assistant, and Mrs. Schlesinger.

Children were among the throng who waited patiently. And what they saw as Mrs. Roosevelt's body was borne out of the church for a five-mile trip to her grave was the passing of an era.

Trains Collide In Illinois; No Fatalities Listed

Belleville, Ill. — (AP) — A passenger train and a freight train collided three miles east of this Southern Illinois city Saturday.

Mrs. Violet Guetterman at the information desk of St. Elizabeth's Hospital said from 12 to 15 injured were brought in but only four were hospitalized. She said the others were treated and released.

"They do not seem to be hurt too badly," she said. There were no reports of fatalities.

Hired Boy To Kill Her Husband

Prattsburgh, N. Y. — (AP) — A woman who met her husband in a Nazi labor camp during World War II and a 19-year-old boy were charged Saturday with first-degree murder in the husband's death.

Stouben County deputy sheriffs arrested Mrs. Stella Kymnik, 34, and Wesley E. Nash Jr., of Prattsburgh in connection with the fatal shooting of Jurko Kymnik, 43, whose body was discovered on the Kymnik farm.

Nash waived preliminary action at his arraignment before Town of Bath Justice Herbert Johnson. A mandatory innocent plea was entered, and he was remanded to Stouben County Jail to await grand jury action. Mrs. Kymnik asked for time to get an attorney. Her arraignment was adjourned until Tuesday night. She also was sent to the county jail.

The motive for the slaying was not revealed immediately.

The sheriff's department said Mrs. Kymnik had hired Nash to kill her husband. She was to pay him $1,500.

Kymnik was shot twice, once from close range and the other from a distance. He was carrying $300 in cash when found.

Kymnik's wife earlier told investigators that she was walking cows when she heard a boom. She told them she thought something had fallen outside.

SKI SEASON ISN'T TOO FAR AWAY — As the blustery November has already indicated to North Country folks, above is James W. (Doc) Littlejohn, veteran ski coach and athletic trainer at S. Lawrence University, speaking at a dinner meeting of the Northern Tier Ski Club at Ace & Ann's Thursday night. Mr. Littlejohn is telling how to select the proper type of boot for safe and comfortable skiing. He also talked about different types of skis and bindings, urging all skiers to have their bindings adjusted for proper release. Others at head table (from left) are: Mr.

Big Storm Buffets East

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A major storm buffeted the eastern states Saturday with torrential rains and gale force winds causing high ocean tides and a freak push-back of the waters in Lake Erie.

Storm-related auto accidents claimed at least six lives in North Carolina, including the drownings of a mother and daughter when their car plunged into a swollen stream at Charlotte.

The fringes of the storm reached westward to Tennessee and Ohio. Wind gusts up to 53 m.p.h. whipped the Cleveland area, knocking out some traffic signal lights.

The Weather Bureau said the widespread storm was similar to an all-moved stationary center positioned at the Ohio-West Virginia border.

Gale warnings flew from Eastport, Maine to Cape May, N. J. for easterly winds up to 50 knots.

Winds up to 66 m.p.h. tore through Norfolk Va., Friday night as the storm moved northward. At least one college football game and numerous scholastic sports events were canceled in Connecticut as heavy winds swept across the state. There was minor flooding in low areas.

Heavy winds from the east and northeast pushed Lake Erie from its normal shoreline at Dunkirk. The harbor there chased a big mud flat as the water level receded four feet.

Two boats were aground in the harbor, a tug and commercial fishing boat. One veteran fisherman said it was the first time in memory the harbor water had been so low.

Tides were 4 feet above normal along the New England coastline and three feet above normal in New York City. Some autos were stalled in New York in deep pools of water.

New Jersey counted one storm-related death and some streets were flooded in that state.

Parkersburg, W. Va., measured 3.21 inches of rain in 24 hours.

Minor flooding occurred in the upper Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac. Some flooding was possible from Virginia to southern New England where heavy rains fell.

Winds up to 60 m.p.h. hammered Maryland. A building containing three apartments was destroyed by a gust of wind described as a baby tugster in the coastal fishing community of West Ocean City. A vacant chicken processing plant also was leveled by the wind.
